

ANTWAN 'ANT' BANKS

Earlier in the mid 80's and early 90's; I had the unfortunate opportunity of being friends or acquaintances with two special individuals. Now that I am thinking about it, maybe it wasn't unfortunate but faith that we crossed paths. Their stories we're similar, even though they happened at different times and in two separate parts of the world.

It is through my God given gift that I will deliver their message; through Eric; F.I.T.H.'s main character. I find it my destiny to help others see life as they did; at tragic moments in both their lives. The time and location of events and names have been changed to protect them and their victim's families. Hopefully this story will show why it's not cool to be a bully but deadly, when you factor in all the consequences.

My son has been being bullied in school; It really changed him and effected his school work. I can identify with this story and hope that we as adults find a solution soon. I had to relocate and put my child in a different school it was so bad.

-Kimberly, Chicago.

This story touched my heart and I felt for the character and what he had to endure. It's a story that needed to be written and I hope that all the readers can learn from it and know what to look for in their kids when they are being bullied. So many times as parents we don't pay close enough attention!

- Martha, Long Island, NY.

I'm am so glad Antwan wrote this book; it shows what happens from several point of views. The Bully's, the victim, his friends, Teachers, Parents and peers. This epidemic effects so many people and needs to be dealt with!

- Dianne, Washington, D.C.

